WOMEN'S NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

Health Thus Lost Is Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

Miss Kate McDonald

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling about it for the sake of other suffering women.

"For a long time I suffered untold agony with a female trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

NIP IT IN THE BUD.

First Appearance of Dandruff a Forerunner of Future Baldness.

That such is the case has been conclusively proven by scientific research. Prof. Unna, the noted European skin specialist, declares that dandruff is the burrowed-up cuticle of the scalp, caused by parasites destroying the vitality in the hair bulb. The hair becomes lifeless, and, in time, falls out. This can be prevented.

Newbro's Herpicide kills this dandruff germ, and restores the hair to its natural softness and abundancy.

Herpicide is now used by thousands of people—all satisfied that it is the most wonderful hair preparation on the market to-day.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Arrest of Would-be Bridegroom.

A telegram from Baltimore Thursday caused a Jersey City double wedding to be broken up yesterday and other complications.

Capt. J. C. Young was to have been married Thursday night to Miss Lauretta Fitzhenry, of Jersey City, after the wedding of her sister, Miss Emelia E. Fitzhenry, had taken place earlier in the evening, but he was arrested instead on a charge of attempted bigamy. The charge was made against him by Daniel Fitzhenry, brother of the bride to-be, who lives in Jersey City also.

Preparations had been made for the double wedding at the Fitzhenry home. The guests, flower girls, ushers and all were present when Miss Emelia Fitzhenry was married to Stanley Walter Roulston.

When the time for the second wedding came the guests were surprised to find there was no bridegroom present. It was then announced by the family that a telegram had been received from Young that he had been delayed by trains and would be unable to reach the house. On receipt of this news Miss Lauretta became ill. She is now under the care of a physician.

The real reason for the delay and the arrest of the man became known yesterday, when Samuel Fitzhenry told his sister that he had gone before Judge Blair and had a warrant sworn out for Young's arrest.

Young is now in the Hudson county jail. Daniel Fitzhenry charges that Young has a wife and four children residing near Baltimore. Fitzhenry said Young offered the excuse that he had sued his wife for divorce, and that a decree in his favor was overdue.

Fitzhenry says he received a telegram from Baltimore Thursday, warning him that Young was married and saying that a registered letter would follow, with full details. Miss Fitzhenry refused to believe the story, and told Young about the telegram. Young indignantly denied that there was any truth in the statement.

When the registered letter arrived later in the day Fitzhenry hurried to his sister's home, but Young had gone. He followed Young to his boarding house, but missed him again. Then he went to the Erie station, where he found Young, and had him placed under arrest.

Grandson Attacks Byron's Name.

A dispatch from London says that one of the greatest literary sensations of recent years is likely to follow the revelation of the contents of a book written for private circulation by the Earl of Lovelace about his grandfather, Lord Byron. Lovelace's mother was Ada, Bryon's only legitimate child, and the object of the earl is to vindicate his grandmother, the poet's wife, concerning whom the opinion has become stereotyped owing to the general trend of Byronic literature, that she caused Byron's exile and wrecked his career by her harsh, unsympathetic attitude.

Lord Lovelace's reply is the astounding disclosure that the allegation, made originally in 1870 by Harriet Beecher Stowe, of Byron's relations with his half-sister, Augusta, whom he only met when both were grown up and she was married, rested not on suspicion or malicious gossip, but upon a confession made to Lady Byron by Augusta herself, and that Lady Byron thereupon justifiedly refused ever to see her husband again, but out of consideration for Augusta, to whom she ever afterward remained a devoted friend, she preserved inviolate their dreadful secret, bearing in heroic silence criticisms and misrepresentations which a word from her could instantly have dispelled.

The Earl of Lovelace is now 66 years old, a man of rather morose and eccentric disposition and evidently consumed by virulent animosity toward Lord Byron's memory.

Ordered Castigation.

"Madam, the sentence of the court is that you take your daughter home and give her a sound spanking, not in the metaphorical sense, but by an actual administration of manual castigation on old fashioned and traditional lines. The court also directs you to report here on the morning of January 22 as to whether or not the order of the court has been carried out."

Such was the order of Magistrate O'Reilly in New York, yesterday, to Mrs. Emily Buch. Mrs. Buch had her daughter Katie, who is 17 years old, and who has not been behaving in a manner becoming to a person of her years, brought before the magistrate, charged with having attempted suicide. Katie had been receiving the attentions of a young man against the wishes of her mother. On Wednesday afternoon she stood in the hall of the tenement talking with a lover after her mother had ordered her to send "that pestiferous young chap home and come in." Not following the admonitions of her mother. Katie had been dragged into the flat and the caller told to "Get out."

A few minutes later Mrs. Buch heard cries for help from Katie's bedroom, and found the girl with her hands tightly clasped over her stomach.

"Oh, ma," moaned Katie, "I felt so bad over the way you treated me that I wanted to die. I've swallowed the toothache medicine."

"Promises May Make Friends."

But 'tis performance keeps them. This principal we take pains to impress upon each one of our employees. We mention a few prices that will be a money-maker to you.

Castro Must Apologize.

It is rumored the French Premier will demand an extraordinary credit to meet the situation growing out of the expulsion of Charge d'affairs Taigny from Venezuela.

Ambassador Juaserand and Secretary of State Root conferred at Washington, but nothing was given out regarding the details of their deliberations.

Three warships are near Venezuelan waters and two others are soon to sail from France.

France will demand an immediate apology, but whether this will be enforced by a peaceful blockade or otherwise is not stated.

Bent Her Double.

"I knew no one for four weeks when I was sick with typhoid and kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Annie Hunter, of Pittsburg, Pa., "and when I got better, although I had one of the best doctors I could get, I was bent double, and had to rest my hands on my knees when I walked. From this terrible affliction I was relieved by Electric Bitters, which restored my health and strength, and now I can walk as straight as ever. They are simply wonderful." Guaranteed to cure, stomach, liver and kidney disorders; at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is a liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c., including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Six Jews Shot.

Warsaw, Jan. 19.—In the court yard of the citade' here Wednesday a detachment of infantry shot six Jews who were alleged to be anarchists. They had been sentenced to death by a court martial for participating in the policy of terrorism.

Perfection can only be attained in the physical by allowing Nature to appropriate and not dissipate her own resources. Cathartics gripe, weaken—dissipate, while DeWitt's Little Early Risers simply expel all putrid matter and bile, thus allowing the liver to assume normal activity. Good for the complexion. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Cora Walker, of Poterville, California. There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold so quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

DRY GOODS

Successful Season Sale.

The unusually large Christmas business has left us with many broken lots of merchandise, and as it is nearing time for our semi-annual inventory we desire to close out these odd lots and at the same time reduce our stock as much as possible so as to lighten the labor of stock-taking.

To do this we are offering for ten days commencing January 15th some of the greatest bargains that has ever gone over our counters. These are not damaged or out of season goods, but real reductions, goods that we are sacrificing solely to reduce stock.

SATURDAY EVENING. JAN. 20, 1906.

THE celebration of General Lee's birthday last night by R. E Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans added another pleasant chapter to the history of that organization. There was a large turnout of veterans and their friends, and all present spent one of the most enjoyable evenings of their lives. There was absolutely nothing wanting in the conception and carrying out of the programme. The ladies' auxiliary societies had everything in readiness for the company and they made everybody feel at home and saw that each and every one had a good time. The menu was tempting and showed superior culinary skill, while the arrangement of the tables and the service could not have been surpassed. There were but two sentiments to which responses were made—"General Robert E. Lee and General Thos. J. Jackson"—the first of which brought to his feet Senator J. S. C. Blackburn, one of Kentucky's most illustrious and able sons. Among other things the speaker uttered a truth which appealed to all when he said it was almost impossible to do injustice to the subject assigned him, and said that the great genius of the late Senator Ben. Hill had been taxed to its utmost when he had been called upon to deliver an eulogium upon the great chieftain. Senator Blackburn, nevertheless, proved himself equal to the occasion, and made a number of original observations concerning the renowned Virginian. Congressman Champ Clark followed in response to the second sentiment—"Stonewall" Jackson. After a felicitous prelude which kept his hearers in laughter, he took up his subject in earnest and delivered one of the ablest eulogiums upon this man of such remarkable genius. Mr. Clark's speech savored of the classic, and was instructive and interesting throughout. Both speakers received well-merited applause. Col. Beasley, of North Carolina, made some appropriate remarks shortly before the company adjourned. Congressman Benton, of Missouri, was present, but the hour being late, he begged to be excused from making a speech. Mr. Benton on previous occasions has made happy responses to toasts at Lee Camp, and had he not been debarred he would last night have added another brilliant feature to the reunion of 1906.

IN their anxiety to line up democratic members of the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce for the Hepburn railroad rate bill republican members yesterday changed their plan for reporting their measure immediately. The reason given was the introduction Thursday of the Davey rate bill, embodying the views of the minority. The republicans found that the Davey bill differed in so few essential points from their own that they decided it would be wise to make another attempt to line up the entire membership of the committee for one bill, thus putting it up to the Senate in a way that could not well be disregarded. Unanimity in the House committee will be secured if the republicans will adopt the democratic suggestions. It seems about an even chance that they will do this. There will be further conferences in the next few days, with a view to getting together. The result will be known on Tuesday next, the new date now set for a report to the House.

MR. BARNUM, the great circus king, never made a truer statement than when he said the American people loved to be humbugged. This was shown yesterday when in New York an examination into the affairs of a company which it is alleged advertised a medicine that had power to bring the dead to life, was begun before a United States commissioner. And this in the enlightened twentieth century!

SPEAKER CANNON and the House managers have accepted the challenge of the House insurgents, and the battle the latter have been promising is to be waged in the House next Wednesday. The statehood bill will be reported on that day, and many predict that the insurgents will win, though, as a rule, republicans fall in line at the sound of the party's whip.

A SOCIETY matron of New York whose losses at bridge whist caused her to shoot herself with suicidal intent, is in a critical condition. New York is not a great distance from Alexandria.

Bomb Factories in Moscow.

Moscow, Jan. 20.—The police have discovered several new bomb factories in this city. Yesterday a man was arrested while trying to dynamite the Nicholas Church. The discovery of the factories and the attack made on the Nicholas Church have aroused the authorities to take the greatest precautions. It is feared that the socialists are planning to institute a reign of terror and the closest watch is being maintained to prevent this.

Returns from the country districts of England, which have been received today, show that the liberals are continuing to sweep everything before them in the elections.

From Washington.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]
Washington, Jan. 20.

Next week will be "insurrection week" in the House. All the insurgents are to be given an opportunity to insurge to their hearts' content. They had the opportunity this week, but they let it slip from them Next week's insurrection is believed to be of more serious import. The opposition to the Hamilton statehood bill, admitting Oklahoma and Indian territory as one, Arizona and New Mexico as another State, is composed of a united minority and of nearly seventy members of the House who are bound together to upset the organization programme. Babcock of Wisconsin is the leader of the republican insurgents. He says that there is no opposition to the admission of Oklahoma and Indian Territory. But he declares emphatically that the other feature of the administration programme can not be realized. The statehood bill will be the important business of the week. Monday will be District day, Tuesday will be devoted to clearing up a few odds and ends of legislature, and Wednesday the statehood bill will come up. If the statehood bill is out of the way before the end of the week, the appropriation committee will probably bring in the bill making appropriations for the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government.

In the presence of the President, Admiral Dewey, and a distinguished company of Senators and members of Congress, the great petition signed by 30,000 citizens of Massachusetts who demand that the famous old frigate Constitution be saved from the junkman, was displayed at the White House this morning The President and his guests spent nearly half an hour examining the document. Senator Spooner, who was one of the little throng in the President's office said that he believed our navy should have a new Constitution and she should be the strongest warship in the world. Admiral Dewey's plan is to restore the ship to its original shape and preserve it as a precious relic. The President applauded both plans. "That's a fine idea," exclaimed the President, and he slapped Senator Spooner's back.

Representative Rixey says he will press to the utmost his resolution now pending in the committee on naval affairs, providing for all information in the possession of the Secretary of the Navy concerning the Naval Academy to be sent to the Congress.

The Senate committee on interstate commerce, met this morning and considered the bill introduced by Senator Foraker, for the regulation of railroad rates. Owing to the absence of a quorum the committee made no headway on the bill. A special meeting will be held Tuesday morning.

President Roosevelt this morning made public some correspondent relating to conditions upon the Canal strip. The first is a letter from W. H. Mackay, President of the Mackay Engineers Company of New York, in which the writer asserts that his engineer upon the Isthmus, Mr. Fries, is so much disturbed over the statements recently made about the mismanagement of affairs in the Canal zone that he is willing to pay all his expenses to the States in order to appear and refute them.

It was announced at the State Department today that the members of the United States delegation to the second peace conference at the Hague next summer will be Joseph H. Choate, General Horace Porter and Judge Rose of Little Rock, Arkansas.

Midshipman Meriwether, is causing some anxious moments to the legal authorities of the Navy Department The dilemma presents these two horns—First, a conviction of hazing, ipso facto, operates to cause a midshipman's dismissal under the law of 1874 and the subsequent act of 1903. Secondly, if Meriwether is dismissed from the academy for hazing, what will become of his conviction and sentence for fighting.

The ship subsidy bill and the pure food bill will continue to receive consideration in the Senate next week. Both have been under discussion since the Christmas holidays and a number of more or less important amendments have been adopted to each. Senator Gallinger, who is in charge of the ship subsidy measure, will make an effort some time during the coming week to have a date fixed upon which the final vote on the passing of the bill may be had. Outside of these two subjects for speech making, the foreign relations of the United States will be under discussion. Senator Spooner is preparing to reply on Monday to Senator Tillman's criticism on the administration's policy in Santo Domingo. It is understood that he will carefully refrain from reference to the incident of Mrs. Morris's removal from the White House. On Tuesday the finance committee will have a meeting to consider Senator Bailey's resolution of inquiry as to the authority under which the administration entered into an agreement with Panama for the maintenance of the currency of that republic at parity. The investigation of the management of Panama canal affairs, started this week, will be continued. John E. Wallace, the former chief engineer of the canal, will be before the committee during the week and will be given an opportunity to fully explain the reasons for his retirement from the canal work, as well as to give his views on the canal situation. Another effort will be made next Wednesday in the foreign relations committee to secure favorable action on the action on the Isle of Pines treaty.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, Jan. 20.

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session today having adjourned Thursday until Monday.

HOUSE.

Having transacted pending routine business, the House today in committee of the whole resumed consideration of the urgent deficiency bill.

Mr. Humpreys, spoke in favor of his bill authorizing the use of internal revenue licenses as evidences in prosecutions for violations of the liquor laws of all States.

Mr. Grosvenor, secured leave to print in the Record, a reply to those who advocate the removal of the duties on hides "No industry in the United States is so prosperous as the shoe industry." "He said. "The cry 'free hides,' is a senseless one."

Shipwrecked Crew.

New York, Jan. 20.—The Atlantic Transport line steamer Maine, which arrived today, from London, brought into port seven shipwrecked seamen, the captain and crew or the Nova Scotian schooner Kipling who were taken off their vessel under very trying difficulties, a fresh northwest gale with a very high sea running at the time.

News of the Day.

Shortage in the rice and silk crops has caused a famine affecting 2,700,000 inhabitants of the three provinces in northern Japan.

A fire with a monetary loss of about $150,000, completely destroyed the old market house, one of Pittsburg's most famous landmarks, last night.

"Kid" Sullivan, of Washington, had quite an easy proposition with Harry Scrogga, of Baltimore, before the Eureka Athletic Club of the latter city last night. Scrogga was put out in the sixth round.

Secretary of War Taft appeared before the House committee on insular affairs yesterday in favor of the Cooper bill, which places the control of the Philippines in the hands of the governor general of the islands.

O. H. P. Belmont testified in the Hapgood Town Topics libel suit in New York yesterday that Colonel Mann wanted to borrow money from him, and when it was refused attacks on Belmont appeared in the society journal.

At Northport, N. Y., last night, Justice Partridge held Dr. James W. Simpson for the Suffolk county grand jury on the charge of murder in the first degree in shooting his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner, on December 27.

President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, in the course of a debate yesterday on the motion to accept transfer cards from the Western Federation of Miners, accused that organization of trying to disrupt the United Mine Workers.

In one of the fiercest fights seen in San Francisco for many a day, Joe Gans, colored, last night completely knocked out Mike (Twin) Sullivan in the fifteenth round. The latter seemed to have had the better of the colored lad all the way until a right swing finished him.

It developed yesterday that Viola Allen, an actress, and Peter Duryea, millionaire Kentucky horseman and New Yorker of greater or less degress, who, it is stated, is now being sued by by Sarah Madden, also an actress, for alleged breach of promise, were secretly married in Louisville Ky., on August 16 of last year.

Former Gov. James H. Peabody, wife and daughter, at Canyon City, Col., were poisoned by food eaten at breakfast yesterday. The Governor recently received several threatening letters. He was governor of Colorado during the labor troubles at Cripple Creek and Telluride, when troops took possession of the two camps and when the Independence station was razed with dynamite, killing several men.

The House spent all of yesterday considering the urgent deficiency bill. During the debate there was considerable criticism of "coercive appropriations" by the departments and of the slowness with which the Panama canal work is being conducted. Mr. Burton, in discussing the deficiency bill in the House, recommended that the House, by a joint committee of chairmen, exercise a stricter supervision over appropriations.

Virginia News.

Mrs. Roberta Williams, widow of the late Judge William G. Williams, died in Orange Thursday night, aged sixty-nine years.

Mr. Thaddeus A. Hatcher, son-in-law of the late Joshua Hatcher, of Hamilton, died suddenly Monday night at his residence near that place. He was 65 years of age.

Mrs. Lena Pearl Bryant, wife of Mr. D. W. Bryant, died at her home in Fredericksburg yesterday, in the 28rd year of her age. She was a daughter of Mrs. Joseph Reynolds, of Westmoreland county.

Mrs. Hooe, wife of Capt. R. H. Hooe, of Nokesville, died on Wednesday last about noon. Mrs. Hooe had been an invalid many years. The deceased was a sister of the late Congressman E. E. Meredith.

Among the presentments made by the grand jury of Petersburg yesterday, was that of A. W. Harris former member of the legislature, and Robert Trainer, both colored, who were indicted for the larceny of a bale of cotton valued at $55.

Within a hundred yards of the immense holders of the lower gas works, fire in Richmond early this morning swept away the manufacturing plant of the Laidlow-Mackill Company, doing damage estimated at $60,000, and for a time endangering the lower end of the city by its proximity to a small building containing a quantity of gasoline.

A. C. Burton, who was Thursday confronted in court in Richmond by a woman claiming to be his legal wife, recovered from the shock when the motion by his counsel to exclude her evidence was agreed to. Yesterday, however, his humiliation was great. A warrant was sworn out charging him with living with another woman whom he introduced as his wife. His bondsman, A. Greekmore, immediately surrendered him to the law, and he is again in jail.

Gen. Lee's Birthday.

Gen. Lee's birthday was celebrated in Richmond yesterday by the closing of the State and city offices and the courts, special meetings of Confederate organizations and the appearance of many pictures of the great commander in store windows. The Richmond Howitzers fired a salute of 19 guns at sunset at the foot of the Lee equestrian statue. Throughout the State the occasion was celebrated wherever a Confederate organization existed. At Charlottesville Gov-elect Swanson delivered an address and in Petersburg and Suffolk and other places there were parades.

A large ivy wreath, tied with ribbons of white and red, was received at Washington and Lee University yesterday as the gift from an English admirer of General Lee, Mr. Gerald Smythe, of London, to be placed upon the tomb of the great Confederate chieftain on the anniversity of his birth. The wreath was sent through Miss Mary Custis Lee, eldest daughter of General Lee.

The twenty-sixth annual banquet of the Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States, in the State of Maryland, was held at the Eutaw House, in Baltimore. Among the speakers were Senator Daniel and Rev. W. M. Dame, Maj. R. W. Hunter and Congressman Lamb.

Throughout the South and in many cities in the North where there are Confederate camps the day was appropriately celebrated.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

The Senate was not in session yesterday having adjourned on Thursday until Monday.

HOUSE.

Gov. Glenn, of North Carolina, entered the hall shortly before noon. He was accompanied by Judge William Hodges Mann who introduced him to the members. Governor Glenn received the congratulations of many members on the speech he made Thursday night at the State Anti-Saloon League convention in Petersburg. He is an ardent supporter of the temperance cause.

The House had been in session only a few minutes when Dr. Snead offered a resolution providing for the adjournment for the day in respect to the memory of Lee and Jackson. The resolution was lost by a vote of 42 to 9. The member from Rockingham then offered a resolution to adjourn until Monday. This was also voted down. Mr. Reed introduced a bill providing for a change in the manner of collecting personal taxes. The plan is to reach thousands which, he holds, are evading the tax. He would substitute a local board in place of the Commissioner of the Revenue alone. This official, under the bill, shall have two appointees of the board of supervisors or two senior magistrates in each district to assist.

Mr. McRae introduced his bill providing for State aid to public roads in the counties and carrying an appropriation of $300,000.

Bills were offered as follows:

To prohibit the keeping, &c., of slot machines, &c.

By the school board of Brookland district, No. 1, to borrow a sum of money not exceeding $15,000 for the purpose of paying for the erection of a school building.

To provide for the separate assessment of the lands and standing timber theron, where the surface of the land is owned by one person and the standing timber by another, and have by the reassessment of land for 1905 both been assessed to the owner of the surface.

By Mr. Caton: To amend an act concerning corporations, which became a law May 21, 1903.

Senator Lynn's resolution, introduced in the Senate Thursday, providing that each county pay the expenses of its criminal prosecution, is creating much interest. The resolution instructs the committee on courts of justice to report in 10 days the expendiency of a bill embodying this principle. Major Lynn thinks it will cause a saving of $300,000.

R. Tate Irvine, of Big Stone Gap, was in Richmond yesterday for the purpose of advocating the creating of another judicial circuit—the Twenty fifth—to be composed of the counties of Russell, Scott and Buchanan. The courts of Wise county are overrun with business. There are now nine murder cases on the docket in Wise county.

Chairman Green, of the House committee of public property, is in favor of having the old "bell house," which stands in the Capitol square, razed to the ground. A bill providing for the removal of the time-honored structure and suggesting other improvements in the square will be prepared by the committee and probably will be passed by the legislature.

Custom House Closed.

For the first time in the history of Newport News and possibly in any part of the United States, the federal customhouse there was closed yesterday in observance of the birthday of Lee. Capt. J. E. B. Stuart, son of the noted Confederate cavalry leader of the same name and collector of customs of the port, yesterday wired Secretary of the Treasury Shaw asking special permission to close the customhouse in that city, which, to the surprise of the Collector, his deputies and the people of the city in general, was granted. General Lee's birthday was generally observed in Newport News yesterday, the feature of the day being the unveiling of a marble tablet to Confederate women in the new city hall by Magruder Camp, Confederate Veterans, of that city.

Held for Murder.

Justice Partridge, last night held Dr. James W. Simpson for the Suffolk county, N. Y., grand jury on the charge of murder in the first degree on the charge of shooting his father-in-law, Bartley T. Horner, on December 27. The decision came as rather a surprise for at the last the general opinion seemed to be that although Simpson would be held it would be on a charge of manslaughter or some other than accusation of the capital offence. Attorney Wilkinson said last night that he would immediately apply for a writ of habeas corpus on the grounds of insufficient evidence. He said that he would probably make his application to Justice Gaynor, of Brooklyn.

Fire in a Hotel.

Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—Fire which started in the roof garden of the Hotel Flanders, southeast corner of Fifteenth and Walnut streets, at 2:30 o'clock this morning threw the guests of the big hotel in a wild panic. Within ten minutes the entire top of the structure was a mass of flames. Just as quickly it was extinguished. All of the guests escaped without injury. They were in their beds when the fire was discovered by a patrolman. He turned in an alarm and then aroused the sleeping inmates. The loss will not exceed $10,000.

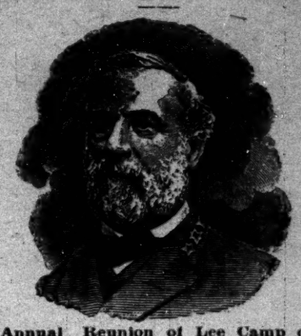
Ports in Hands of Rebels.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 20.—Advices received today state that Batoum and Guriaja, Black Sea ports, and Poti and Imeretia, trans-Caucasus, are in the hands of rebels. The government is sending warships to Batoum manned with infantry, as the spread of mutinous sentiments among the sailors has made them untrustworthy. General Linievitch, commander of the armies in Manchuria, is expected to arrive here in the near future to discuss the project of postponing bringing the Manchurian army home until 1908.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Jan. 20.—The opening of the stock market, and so far today, has been at the boiling point with continued breaking of previous high records in which there was concentrated buying. Brokers were almost overwhelmed with the volume of business on both sides. The persistent and huge buying was in some cases offset by enormous sales that caused reactions from high records, but owing to the stock supplied being quickly absorbed still higher levels were soon reached. Later a number of stocks which had made material gains early in the week were under pressure so as to force reactions of 2 to 3 points.

General Lee's Birthday.



Annual Reunion of Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans—Speeches by Senator Blackburn, Congressman Champ Clark and Colonel Beasley—An Enjoyable Event.

Confederate Veterans' Hall last night was the theatre of a happy gathering of ex-Confederates and many of their friends, including ladies composing the auxiliary societies. The occasion was the annual reunion and the celebration of General Lee's birthday. The hall had been tastefully and handsomely arranged for the event, and the new carpets and other articles of utility and decoration were justly admired. The ladies, who in recent years have been the caterers on the recurrence of this occasion, were at their best and at the door cordially welcomed all who entered. They had worked assiduously to make everything as attractive and inviting as possible to the company, had anticipated everything that could have in any way added to the enjoyment of their guests, and their labors were justly appreciated.

Shortly before 8 o'clock the company began to arrive and half an hour later Mr. John M. Johnson, Commander of Lee Camp, assembled the company which marched from the upper rooms to the banquet hall on the first floor. When all had been seated the discussion of the following menu proceeded:

Lynn Haven Bay oysters raw and fried; celery, olives, mixed pickles, pickled beets, salted almonds, roast turkey and currant jelly, country ham, cold tongue, chicken and cold slaw, lobster salad, sliced tomatoes, ice cream, Confeuerate colors; assorted cakes, oranges, Malaga grapes, cigars, coffee, punch.

Shortly before the close of the feast Miss Mary Custis Lee, daughter of General Robert E. Lee, entered the hall with a colossal bouquet of flowers which she presented to the camp. All the guests arose as the daughter of the great chieftain was presented to the company. The flowers were immediately placed under a large picture of General Lee which hangs in the hall.

At the close of the feast Mr. Johnson called the company to order, when Comrade R. M. Latham read General Lee's Farewell Address.

Mr. Johnson again arose and in announcing the first toast—"General Robert E. Lee—The most stainless of commanders, and, except in fortune, the greatest," which was to be responded to by Senator J. S. C. Blackburn, of Kentucky, spoke in an earnest and fervid manner of the illustrious chieftain, after which he formally introduced the Senator who was received with great applause.

The Senator began his speech by saying that it was a rule among the ancients to say nothing but good of the dead; there was another rule to say nothing but what is true of the dead, and in dealing with Lee, his successes and his career it was difficult to get more than the outlines. But the subject did not need it, and the only aim should be to see that the world applied the same rule to the great Virginian that is used in speaking of others who have become prominent in history. That General Lee stands without a rival none will contradict. Virginia gave the country a Washington for the revolutionary struggle of seven years, who accomplished all for which the colonies fought, but Washington's environments faded when compared with the conditions which faced Lee during the four years of civil war. It was not by reason of the disparity of numbers that the Southern Confederacy was doomed to failure; not to the titantic struggle without organization, nor to the blockade of southern ports, but to a misconception on the part of those hostile to or unsympathetic with the South It was supposed by such that slavery was the paramount issue, and it accomplished its purpose, for the reason that the moral sentiment of Christendom was against it. The Senator then proceeded in an interesting manner to give a resume of the actual issues which brought on the war between the States, and showed that they were similar to those that brought to birth the Declaration of Independence and the revolutionary war—a vindication of the right of freemen to live. Senator Blackburn in referring to the civil war said that during the unequal struggle more victories were placed to the credit of Southern arms than were accorded to the opposite side in spite of the odds. There never was nor never will be a man who could have maintained an army in the field under such conditions as Lee. Virginia had sent forth a Washington to battle for freedom. The State had later sent forth a Lee who stands above his prototype—greater than Wellington, Napoleon or Washington—as the present occupant of the White House, Theodore Roosevelt, has truly said, in one of his works. His name has been placed in the Hall of Fame in New York by a jury not one member of which is a Southern man. The Senator then in a vigorous manner recalled the gifts of Virginia to the nation, and averred that Lee and Jackson were the greatest of all her gifts. Jackson was a thunderbolt whom only one man, Lee, was fitted to command. The speaker in conclusion gave a rapid summary of General Lee's services during the civil war, and his action after the final surrender, referring to the fact that there was a likihood of the southern country becoming the theater of a guerilla warfare, all of which was averted by the action of General Lee who set a different example. The Senator also referred to the course of General Grant at that critical period, who he said had kept down the unthinking elements in the North who would have made further trouble. Both chieftains had stood forth and played a conspicious part in repressing unseemly conduct on the part of some in both sections of the country. "All honor to both," said the Senator. The Senator closed by reading the late Senator Hill's eulogy on General Lee; said he trusted the anniversaries of his birth would always be observed, and after paying a just tribute to the women of the South took his seat amid much applause.

The next sentiment was "General T. J. Jackson, Stonewall — "Look! there is Jackson, standing like a stone wall." — which was responded to by Representative Champ Clarke, of Missouri.

Mr. Clark, after some introductory remarks delivered in a pleasant vein, which were greatly enjoyed, said in part:

"Some French philosopher once said that it is frequently the unexpected which happens. The truth of this paradox was fully verified during our civil war. If at the beginning of that calamitous conflict, all the prophets in America had been called upon to predict who would become the great captains, and if, by any lucky chance, one of them had named a small dealer in leather and green hides as the successful leader of union troops and a plodding, praying pedagogue in the Virginia Military Institute as the most brilliant soldier of the Confederacy, he would instanter and without ceremony have been clothed with a straightjacket and consigned to a padded cell. It is hardly overstating the case to say that when that shot was fired at Sumter, which was heard round the world, Ulysses Simpson Grant and Thomas Jonathan Jackson were, of all the graduates of West Point, among the most unpromising. Yet impartial history will record the fact with iron pen upon her glowing page that they were two of the most colossal figures in that gigantic contest. Whether circumstances make men or men create circumstances is a problem impossible of solution and about which people will forever dispute. However that may be, Grant and Jackson, perhaps unconsciously, possessed military genius of the highest order and were only awaiting the occasion for its display. It came and to them it brought enduring fame.

"There is a tide in the affairs of men.
Which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune."

"Grant and Jackson so took it and stand today in the very small group of the world's really great soldiers. These you can count on your fingers without counting twice, but whoever else is missing Grant and Jackson will be there. Fate plays fantastic tricks with men. The well authenticated truths of history are sometimes as startling and appear as improbable as any tale from the Arabian Nights. Sidney Smith of witty memory once said: 'Originally God made round holes and three-cornered holes and round people and three-cornered people, but that many of the round people had gotten into the three-cornered holes while many of the three-cornered people got into the round holes; consequently there are many misfits. Most assuredly Jackson got into the particular place designed for him by nature.' Jackson was considered on all hands as a decidedly slow coach while teaching mathematics at Lexington, Va. Even his friends thought, when he was appointed colonel of volunteers, that he was assuming responsibility for which he was too weak and that he was about as near the top of the military ladder as he was likely to climb. When he was placed in charge of Harper's Ferry, there was almost universal objection on the ground of his supposed unfitness. Such was the dismal beginning of the most brilliant military career of modern times. The first opportunity that came the Calvinistic schoolmaster stood revealed as a full-panoplied son of Mars. Out of the smoke and din and carnage of his first battlefield, Jackson's star rose bright as Sirius and blazed with ever increasing splendor till he was gathered to his fathers. To pray incessantly, to watch vigilantly, to march astoundingly, to fight victoriously seemed to be the four self-imposed duties of this pious, modest and heroic man. The sight of his foes fired his Scotch-Irish blood and sent it boiling like melted lava through his veins. General Forrest declared that the whole secret of success in war is to get there first with the most men. This was also Jackson's theory and he marched his men so rapidly they came to be known as Jackson's Foot Cavalry. They gloried in this title, and today all over the land there are men who would not exchange the right to say 'I once belonged to the Stonewall brigade' for the brightest cross of the Legion of Honor that ever gleamed upon a Frenchman's breast. When the world saw Jackson destroy Banks, scatter Pope's forces as chaff before the wind and double up Hooker's magnificent army like a jackknife, it was apparent that an equal to Alexander, Caesar, Hannibal or Napoleon had appeared among men. Friend and foe alike came to regard him with admiration and with awe. It is safe to say that had Jackson's advice been followed at Fredericksburg, Burnside's entire army would have been captured, Washington would have been taken, peace established and today the Southern Confederacy would have been one of the proudest nations on the globe. But such was not to be. Jackson died in the morning of this fame before the Confekerate banner was trailed in the dust, just after a victory worthy to rank with Blenheim, Malplaquet, Marengo or Austerlitz. When Jackson died, Lee said that he had lost his right hand; the Confederates felt that their chief defender was gone; the Federals realized that their most dangerous antagonist was laid low; and earth knew that she had lost one of her noblest sons. One of the wisest and most gracious acts performed by President Roosevelt since he has been in the White House was to appoint Stonewall Jackson's grandson to West Point. It may be—Who knows?—that that boy may, in some crisis of our fate, save American arms from grave disaster and the American republic from great humiliation. The soldiers of the North and the soldiers of the South were American freemen all—fighting like heroes for what they considered right; as such, I honor them and teach my children to cherish them. To both alike are applicable the words of Kentucky's soldier poet.

"On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

"O! my countrymen, it is an excellent thing to be an American—a great, a glorious thing! When I look into the faces of my children my heart swells with ineffable pride to think that they are citizens of this mighty republic, one and indivisible, built not for a day but for all time and destined under God to be the dominating influence of all the centuries yet to be—dominating not by force of arms, not by the mailed hand, but influencing men everywhere by the wholesomeness of our example to adopt our theory of government of the people, by the people, and for the people."

Colonel Beasley, of North Carolina, followed in a short but interesting speech. He dwelt mostly on certain war history concerning Virginia and North Carolina, which was well received.

Ex-Congressman Benton, who had been present on former anniversarie and delivered most interesting responses to toasts, was on hand again last night. He was acordingly called upon for a speech, but as the hour was late he begged to be excused, and in doing so made a few pertinent remarks, which were listened to with close attention.

The company adjourned about 11 o'clock.

At the close of the banquet the adjutant read a letter from Gen. G. W. C. Lee, at Ravensworth, regretting his inability to accept the invitation extended him by Lee Camp to be present on the occasion, and expressing his kindest regards and well wishes for the camp.

After the banquet Miss Mary Custis Lee, who had been invited by the Ladies Auxiliary to be present and assist in the entertainment, held an informa reception and warmly greeted the speakers, the members of the camp and their friends.

At the close of the evening the members of the camp presented Mrs. E. H. O'Brien with a beautiful boquet as a slight token of their appreciation of the services she had rendered them on the occasion of the banquet.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammed portion of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Cured His Mother of Rheumatism.

"My mother has been a sufferer for many years from Rheumatism," says W. H. Howard of Husband, Pennsylvania. "At times she was unable to move at all, while at all times walking was painful. I presented her with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and after a few applications she decided it was the most wonderful pain reliever she had ever tried, in fact, she is never without it now and is at all times able to walk. An occasional application of Pain Balm keeps away the pain that she was formerly troubled with." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Church Services Tomorrow.

Services will be held in the several churches tomorrow as usual. In Christ Church Rev. Dr. S. A. Wallis will conduct the services at 11 o'clock and Rev. J. M. Nourse will preach at both services in the Second Presbyterian Church With these exceptions the services will be conducted by the resident clergy.

Interscholastic Games.

On Saturday, May 5, it is announced that the Athletic Association of the Episcopal High School near this city will hold its second annual interscholastic track and field meet open to schools of Virginia, Maryland and the District. Last year there were eighteen schools represented by 149 competitors in these games and the event was a decided success in spite of threatening weather in the morning. This year preparations are beginning early, practically all of the officials of last year, who succeeded in running off all of the events in three separate classes in three hours, have accepted and an event of great interest is expected. Track athletics, though serving most of the good purposes of foot-ball without any of the bad qualities popularly ascribed to that game, has so far gained small hold on the young men and boys of the State and consequently Woodberry Forest and the home team were the only Virginia institutions represented last year. Now there is, however, a much more general interest in this form of physical training, as is shown by the active interest shown in the indoor games to be held by the Richmond Intercollegiate Club in that city on February 10th, and several Virginia schools will almost certainly compete in these games as well as those of May 5th. An event of considerable interest to many people in this city is the relay race to be run in the Richmond games between the Episcopal High School and Woodberry. In this race two Alexandria boys, Beaudric Howell, of the Episcopal High School, and Lewis Ansley, will probably be pitted against each other.

Death of a Clergyman.

Dr. Herbert Hawes, aged 72 years, an eminent Presbyterian divine and brother of Mrs. Terhune (Marian Harland) died yesterday of pneumonia in Charlottesville. A native of Lunenburg county, Virginia, he was educated in Richmond and at the Theological Seminary at Brunswick, New Jersey. He served pastorates in Amelia county, Farmville, Staunton, Bluefield, Bedford City and Hot Springs. He was evangelist of the Synod of Virginia and financial agent of the Home School, Fredericksburg. He was the author of many booklets upon doctrinal and religious subjects. "Bible Church Studies" was his crowning literary work. His wife, who was Harriet Ann Boudlin, of Charlotte county, survives, with four children. One son is a minister in Tennessee. The remains will be conveyed to Richmond and interred in the family vault in Hollywood. The deceased had a number of frends and acquaintances in Alexandria, he having on several occassions recently occupied the pulpit of the Second Presbyterian Church and was to have conducted the services in that church tomorrow. He was an interesting and instructive minister and his discourses were always enjoyed.

Vindication is What She Wants.

The Alexandria wife of John P. Hunter, the former Washington theatrical man now in jail in Norfolk charged with bigamy, has written there declaring that she can produce documentary evidence proving her legal marriage to Hunter in Alexandria, February 11, 1903, by Rev. Joseph A. Jeffers, Mrs. Hunter, writing from 324 north St. Asaph street, this city, declares that her aunt, Mrs. William Hardy, of Washington, witnessed the marriage. She says Hunter's second wife in Newport News has known of the facts since September 22 last, when she wrote her, following a full confession by Hunter. The Alexandria wife says Hunter begged her to write Mrs. Hunter No. 2 denying the legality of his first marriage, but she refused. Then the Newport News wife wrote her agreeing never to lay eyes on Hunter "dead or alive" if the first wife would not prosecute him. The Alexandria wife, now that Hunter has denied his marriage to her, is going there to prosecute him.

Death of Mrs. Heisley.

Mrs. Phoebe Heisley, whd has for some time been in feeble health, died yesterday afternoon. The deceased was the widow of Ferdinand Heisley. She was born in Bavaria, Germany, and came to this country when 16 years old and settled in Williamsport, Pa. The deceased came to this city during the civil war. She leaves six children—Misses Emma and Katherine Heisley, Frank E. Heisley, Mrs. Charles Schreiner and Mrs. Herbert Goodrich, of this city, and Mrs. Harry Hager, of Charleston, W. Va. Mrs. Heisley was a member of the Second Presbyterian Church, and had a large circle of friends and acquaintances who will sincerely regret to hear of her death. This family has had many bereavements in the last few years and the children of the deceased have the sympathy of the community in their sad affliction.

Pretty Dance

The ladies of the German Club last night gave a beautiful dance at McBurney's Hall in return for those given them by the club during the season. The dance was largely attended and greatly enjoyed, among those present being a number of out-of-town guests. The german was led by Mr. Harry Beverly with Miss Shriver, of Baltimore, and Mr. Taylor Burke with Miss Agnes Bryant. The figures were very pretty and danced with unusual grace. After the dance several members of the club intertained the out-of-town guests at a upper given at the Hotel Rammel.

The Ministers' Association of this city held a meeting last week at the residence of Rev. Mr. Jeffers. Rev. Mr. Ewell was chosen president, and Rev. Mr. Carpenter secretary.

Personal.

Mrs. Anna L. Slaymaker, who has been confined to her room by sickness for about two weeks, is scarcely so well as she was last week.

Miss Bessie Jones, of this city, who is spending a part of the winter in New Orleans was among the strangers who attended the Twelfth Night there and was the recipient of many of the beautiful favors.

Congressman Champ Clark, of Missouri, and his wife, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Doniphan during their stay in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Mary Williams, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs. Sarah Goodrich, has returned to her home in Baltimore.

Mr. George S. Hinken has been appointed chief clerk of the Southern Railway freight office vice Mr. J. T. Hanson, who has been appointed traveling auditor.

Miss Marian Gault Peyton, daughter of Mr. Jno. F. Peyton, of this city, who has been a member of the McGill Stock Company for the past three years will, it is said, go in vaudeville this season.

Mr. P. J. Dempsey is in Savannah, Ga., on government business, Mrs. Dempsey accompanying him on the trip.

Mr. John H. Ryan, of Maryland, is in the city on a short visit to friends and relatives.

Remains Missing.

It was stated yesterday that Dr. Purvis, the Coroner, had directed Demaine & Sons to take charge of the remains of an infant which had recently been found in an unoccupied house on Commerce street. The undertakers proceeded to the house, but were unable to find any trace of the body, it having been mysteriously spirited away. Several persons who had seen the remains after they were discovered were summoned to appear at the station house this morning and after their depositions had been taken the investigation was adjourned to a futnre day.

Good Templars.

The regular weekly meeting of Rescue Lodge, No. 532, I. O. G. T., was held last night at Pythian Hall. The lodge initiated four new members. This lodge, while but a few months old, is gaining new members weekly. The Chief Templar announced that the installation of officers would take place February 2nd. A musical entertainment will be given on that night, which will be open to the public. At the meeting on Friday, January 26, refreshments will be served at the lodge room.

Installation.

At the last meeting of Division No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year by County President W. H. P. Kelley: John A. Nugent, president; John J. Hanratty, vice president; Lyons H. Dolan, recording secretary; Francis T. Quinn, financial secretary; William H. Sweeney, treasurer; P. J. Brenner, sentinel; Robt. Edw. Power, sergeant-at-arms; James B. Fitzgerald, chairman of standing committee, and Wm. E. Eberhart, organist.

Serious Mistake.

An unusually large farm wagon drawn by a pair of fine horses was yesterday morning placed in front of a north Royal street hotel and the driver with baskets had well advanced toward loading his wagon with oyster shells for farm purposes when the hotel manager discovered that the same shells enveloped his best oysters. Amid laughter of bystanders a quick about face movement commenced and soon the double shells were replaced by singles.

Row.

A row occurred near the corner of Oronoco and Patrick streets last night, during which one man was badly cut and, it is said, another was considerably used up. No report was made of the row, but this morning Chief Webster learned of the occurrence and issued warrants for the arrest of all he could ascertain who had taken part.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Ten lodgers were at the station house last night.

There was but one case for trial in the Police Court this morning. John Dogan, colored, had been arrested by Officer Mayhugh for trespassing on the property of J. Harding. He was sent to jail for 60 days.

There was an average supply of country produce in market this morning. Prices in the main were unchanged. Eggs, however, had declined, and were selling at 25 cents per dozen. It was said that some had been sold as low as 23 cents.

Mr. S. H. Lunt, for Howard W. Smith, commissioner of sale, sold at auction today a lot of ground 17x55 feet, with building thereon, known as No. 519 north Pitt street, to Mr. J. C. Milburn for $275.

The statement published several days since that Mrs. Geo. H. Richards had suffered another stroke of paralysis was incorrect. She is in her usual health.

Fried Clams 30 cents a dozen. Oyster fried, stew or raw. Free lunch—hot sausages C. H. Zimmerman, Market Space.

Precautions in Berlin.

Berlin, Jan. 20.—The police authorities are making the most elaborate preparations to prevent rioting tomorrow at the meetings called by the socialists to commemorate the Russian Red Sunday, in which Father Gapon's followers were shot down in St. Petersburg by the troops, a year ago.

The long-expected answer of Mrs. Lillian M. Duke to the divorce proceedings instituted against her by James B. Duke, the tobacco magnate, was filed this morning in the Court of Chancery, in Trenton, N. J., by Mrs. Duke's counsel. The answer denies any wrong doing on Mrs. Duke's part, allege infidelity against Duke and charges him with extreme cruelty, desertion and a malicious attack upon the reputation and character of his wife.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Legislature.

[Special Dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Jan. 20.—A fight against salary increases was launched in the House by Mr. Read, of Mecklenburg, today, he serving notice that a raid on the treasury was about to be made and should be checked at the start.

Bills to increase salaries of the State treasurer and circuit judges came up and were passed by on Mr. Read's motion. A big fight is expected over the general question of increases Monday and a roll call will show the standing of members.

It is of interest to insurance people to know that all bills on that subject are to be considered in committee at 8 p. m. Thursday next.

Strengthening Naval Bases.

London, Jan. 20.—There is a simultaneous movement on the part of the principal European naval powers to greatly strengthen their naval bases. The subject seems to have become important to at least three of the powers at the same time, and preparations are being made to expend large sums in the strengthening of important ports.

England has determined to strengthen her position in the Orient. A new naval base will be established at Singapore, Straits Settlements and another at Labuan, an English island near Borneo.

Germany is making material additions to the naval yards at Wilhemshaven and Kiel. The next French budget will provide for an appropriation of $15,000,000 to be used in extending the naval arsenals at Brest and Toulon.

European naval authorities criticise the apparent lack of appreciation by the Washington government of the importance of maintaining naval stations to their maximum strength. The lack of a single first class naval depot by the United States on the Pacific coast causes the comment to be made that America's new warships will be like birds with their wings clipped unless adequate naval arsenals are provided in the future.

The Annapolis Court Martial.

Annapolis, Md., Jan. 20.—When the court martial resumed its sessions this morning, the case against Charles Milford James, of Grinnell, Iowa, charged with the hazing of six midshipmen of the fourth class, completed with the argument of George H. Mann, of New York, counsel for the accused. Mr. Mann began his argument by referring to the technical evidence that he had been given by the witnesses. In this connection he pointed out that none of the prosecuting witnesses; could say exactly when the offenses, as alleged took place and in some cases, he said, there was a wide margin as to the dates of occurrences, and that there was corroborative testimony on these matters. He urged, therefore, that there was not sufficient proof and that the hazing was all done in a spirit of fun. "If the court is to try and convict every midshipman who is arraigned in such charges, as those against James," Mr. Mann said. "this court martial will be in session until next Christmas or longer, and at the end of that time there will not be enough midshipmen left to hold a Y. M. C. A. meeting."

Judge Advocate Harrison submitted the case to the court without any remarks.

Sues Syrian Husband.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Out on the Ridge Road, this city, Miss Margaretta Johnson, aged 76, met and loved a young Syrian, who sold trunks. She was worth $500,000, and he was practically penniless. On February 6th, 1904, in New York, Miss Johnson became the wife of Gabriel Adukalit, the Syrian, who was handsome and 25 years old. Following their engagement Miss Johnson gave the Syrian $15,000 to open a restaurant in New York city. Later, he got $75,000. After the marriage, he is said to have got all his aged wife possessed. Then, it is alleged, he abandoned her, and left her penniless in the streets. Mrs. Adukalit now brings action in New York city, to compel the young husband to reassign to the aged wife such properties as he may have in his keeping and which formerly belonged to her.

The Green and Gaynor Case.

Savannah, Ga., Jan 20—The government's case against Greene and Gaynor was outlined to the jury this morning by District Attorney Erwin. He charged that the defendants were in a large measure responsible for the fact that big appropriations were made for harbor work in this district, thus being able to defraud the government out of much larger sums of money. The district attorney described how Captain Oberlin M. Carter fell into the clutches of the prisoners, and became their tool in embezzling large sums of money from the United States.

The sudden death of Mrs. J. H. H. Osborne, mother of the counsel for the defense, caused an adjournment until Monday.

Railroad Accident.

Wellston, O., Jan. 20.—A miners' train which left this city at 5:45 this morning, for the Superior Mine, with 500 men on board, going to work was wrecked near Downardsville, seven miles southeast of here. The train was running at high speed. Three coaches left the track. The front coach was demolished, injuring William Acres, who is expected to die.

Fifty men were in the front coach and how they escaped is almost a miracle. The Buckeye Branch railroad on which the wreck occurred is controlled by the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railway. A report was flashed over the city that it was feared several men had been killed.

Mysterious Murder.

Warren, O., Jan. 20.—Mystery surrounding the murder at West Farmington last night in which R. K. Lewis, a prominent cattle buyer and rice farmer, was the victim. The murderer came to the house in a carriage. Lewis's hired man, B. J. Heman, heard him talking to Lewis, but did not get up to see who he was. Later, smelling smoke and burning oil, he went down stairs, and found Lewis with his head crushed in and a gash in the forehead, bound, and the body covered with oil-saturated straw which was burning. He managed to extinguish the fire and give an alarm. There is no definite clew to the murderer. Lewis lived alone with his farm hand.

Forced to Starve.

B F. Leek, of Concord, Ky., says: "For 20 years I suffered agonies, with a sore on my upper lip, so painful, sometimes, that I could not eat. After vainly trying everything else, I cured it with Bucklen's Arnica Salve." It's great for burns, cuts and wounds. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; only 25c.

IN THE CORPORATION COURT OF ALEXANDRIA CITY, VIRGINIA.

William H. Hoeke, who sues, etc., complainant, vs. Sidney F. Marshall, administrator, with the will annexed, of Miletus J. Wine, deceased, and Mary Armes, nee Wine, the widow, and Mary Powell Wine and John Milton Wine, children and heirs at law of Miletus J. Wine, deceased, defendants. In Chancery.

Commissioner's Office, 107 N. Fairfax St.
Alexandria, Va., Jan. 16, 1906.

To William H. Hoeke, Sidney F. Marshall, administrator w. w. a., of Miletus J. Wine, deceased; Mary Armes, nee Wine; Mary Powell Wine, John Milton Wine, Henry O'B. Cooper, guardian ad litem for Mary Powell Wine and John Milton Wine, and the Washington Title Insurance Company:

You are hereby notified that I have fixed upon the 27th day of January, 1906,

at 11 o'clock a. m., at my said office, as the time and place, when and where I shall proceed to execute the decree rendered by the Corporation Court of the city of Alexandria, on the 8th day of January, 1906, in the chancery suit of William H. Hoeke, complainant, against Sidney F. Marshall, administrator, et als, defendants, whereby I am required to ascertain and report as follows:

First. Of what real estate Miletus J. Wine, deceased, was seized and possessed in the State of Virginia, and the location and description of the same, with its assessed value.

Second. What personal estate of the said decedent in the State of Virginia came into the hands of Sidney F. Marshall, administrator with the will annexed of the said decedent, and what disposition has been made of the same, and whether the personal estate of the said decedent in Virginia is sufficient for the payment of the debts of the said decedent.

Third. To take an account of and report upon the claim of the complainant in this cause, and of all other debts of the said decedent, and all liens upon the said real estate, with their priorities.

Fourth. Whether a sale of the real estate of the said decedent situated in the State of Virginia will be necessary for the payment of his debts.

Fifth. And any other matter which the said Commissioner may deem pertinent, or which any party to this cause may require, including what is a reasonable fee to be paid the complainant's counsel for his services in this case.

At which time you are required to attend.

Given under my hand as Commissioner in Chancery of said court, the day and year first aforesaid. WALTER U. VARNEY, jan17 10t Commissioner in Chancery.

Charges Against a Pastor.

Rev. James Banbury, who resigned from the pastorate of the Borough Park Congregational Church, in New York, in November last, went from Brooklyn to Chicago, leaving his wife and family in Brooklyn. Banbury comes from a well-known Virginia family.

There was considerable gossip yesterday over the announcement that Miss Mabel Flack, a beautiful choir singer in Mr. Banbury's church, left her home on December 30, and also went to Chicago. Miss Flack's mother admitted yesterday that her daughter is in Chicago, but denied that she was with Banbury. The clergyman's wife, however, made the direct statement yesterday that the pretty choir singer had followed her husband west.

"My husband has not treated me as his wife for five years," Mrs. Banbury said. "He never took me anywhere, but devoted all his attentions to other women. I knew he was attentive to Miss Flack. He told me several weeks ago he was going to leave me. I decided that a separation would be the best thing for all of us. I made him sign a contract to send me a certain sum each week for support and change the deeds for this house in my name. He has sent me the money regularly and his letters have been friendly."

Banbury's 19 year-old daughter returned Thursday from England. She has sided with her mother in the present case, although formerly, it is said, she was in sympathy with the clergyman.

Striking Printers Pray

A strikers' meeting, with its attendant heated debating of labor troubles, was converted into a prayer meeting yesterday by Rev. F. D. Vaughan, of the Forty-seventh Street Methodist Church, Chicago. Union printers had begun the discussion of the strike situation when Pastor Vaughan entered the hall and asked permission to take part in it. The request was granted, and after complimenting the men upon their peaceful methods of conducting the strike, Mr. Vaughan said:

"Union men have made a mistake in placing their union before their religious duties. Your constitution demands that you do this, but it should be changed. Your first duty is to your church. Let us pray."

Every hat was removed and every head was bowed. After the prayer President E. R. Wright, of the Typographical Union, addressed the men, and when the meeting was closed the strikers walked sedately out of the hall, entirely satisfied with the result of the meeting, although the strike situation had scarcely been touched upon.

New Trial for Capt. Jones.

Judge Hanckell, of Norfolk, this week reached a conclusion, which did not become public until yesterday, denying the motion for a new trial in the case of Capt. E. W. Jones, of the Virginia National Guard, convicted of the murder of Maud Cameron Robinson, formerly of Selma, N. C., and given 18 years in the penitentiary, but as the result of a decision rendered by the Court of Appeals of Virginia yesterday, allowing a new trial to Fred S. Hoback, convicted in Floyd county, Va., of murder, the same point involved in the Jones case was decided in favor of the prisoner, and Jones consequently will get a new trial. The point was that the trial jury was improperly summoned.

The Diamond Cure.

The latest news from Paris, is, that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that great remedy mentioned by W. T. McGee, of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough for fourteen years. Nothing helped me until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief and affected a permanent cure." Unequalled quick cure for Throat and Lung Troubles. At E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

A Liquid Cold Cure.

For coughs and colds no remedy is equal to Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar—the Liquid Cold Cure. It is different from all others—better, because it expels all cold from the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels. Gives strength to weak lungs. Affords immediate relief in Croup, Coughs, Colds, Whooping-Cough, etc. Children love it. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Soothing and Comforting.

The soothing and comforting effects of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, when applied to Piles, sores, cuts, boils, etc., subdues pain almost instantly. This Salve draws out the inflammation, reduces swelling and acts as a rubefacient, thus circulating the blood through the diseased parts, permitting or aiding Nature to permanently remove the trouble entirely. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Stomach Troubles and Constipation.

"Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are the best thing for stomach troubles and constipation I have ever sold," says J. R. Cullman, a druggist of Port Iroville, Mich. They are easy to take and always gives satisfaction. I tell my customers to try them and if not satisfactory to come back and get their money, but have never had a complaint." For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. Your CHILD and the Croup Danger

The Danger Loses all Its Terrors When You Have This Marvelous Remedy at Your Hand

Any night your little one may waken with the croup. Death clutches tightly on the tender throat. And you—are helpless.

Be prepared. Keep a bottle of Gowan's Pneumonia Cure in your room. A moment's brisk rubbing on the throat and chest, and you have the croup under control. In a few moments the healing liquids have driven the cold out; the child is cured, as suddenly as croup comes.

GOWAN'S PNEUMONIA CURE

Is an external, safe, harmless, sure cure. Ask for Gowan's Pneumonia Cure at any drug store. Regular size, $1.00. Croup size, 25c. Sent by mail, if desired. Gowan Medical Co., Durham, N. C.

Read a Father's Letter

"Your remedy is truly a God-send to humanity. We have used it in our family for the past year, and only last night our baby had an attack of croup. We at once applied Gowan's Pneumonia Cure, and in fifteen minutes our child was fast asleep, and this morning is quite well. We do not feel safe without the Cure in the house, and we recommend all people to get it and use it promptly.—J. D. GUNTER, Sandford, N. C."

AUCTION SALES.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE, MACHINERY AND OTHER FIXTURES LOCATED IN ALEXANDRIA COUNTY, VIRGINIA, AND USED AS A BRICK PLANT.

By virtue of a deed of trust dated November 6, 1886, and recorded November 9, 1886, in book G, No. 4, at page 404, of the land records of the county of Alexandria, State of Virginia, and by reason of default having been made under said deed of trust, and upon the written request of the party secured thereby, I will on the first day of February, 1906,

THURSDAY,

at 3 o'clock p. m., on the premises, at Brick Haven, in said county, sell at public auction the property described in said deed of trust, except that portion heretofore conveyed to the Washington-Southern Railway Company; said property securing said deed of trust is described as follows: ALL THAT TRACT OF LAND lying in Alexandria county, Virginia, between the Washington and Alexandria Turnpike road and the Potomac river, and known as the Columbia Brick Yards, now known as the Jackson-Phillips Brick Company's yards, with the following metes and bounds: Beginning at the intersection of the east side of the Washington and Alexandria Turnpike road, with the land now or lately owned by Hunter; thence E. 23 4 poles chains and 49 links to a point B, as designated on the plat of survey made in 1850 by Caleb Hallowell, for a former owner, Mrs. Virginia Scott, reference to which is hereby made; thence S. 76 degrees E. 21 chains 27 links to C, a point on the shore of the Potomac at about high water mark (passing at 21.08 a small sycamore which bears N. 69¼ degrees E. 1.10 from a willow); thence up the shore and along the water's edge (the tide being up), as follows: N. 41¼ degrees E. 4; N. 32¼ degrees E. 3.81; N. 2¼ degrees E. 1.36; N. 35 degrees W. 4.19; N. 30¼ degrees W. 6.08; N. 42¼ degrees W. 1.52; N. 78¼ degrees W. 2.74; N. 35½ degrees W. 1.36; S. 86 degrees W. 4.75; N. 73¼ degrees W. 2.73 to a marked elm; thence N. 31¼ degrees W. 11.35 N. 5¾ degrees W. 3.94 to a large white oak D; thence S. 76¼ degrees W. 7.90 to E, a point on a small stream supposed to be where a certain willow stood; thence S. 84¼ degrees W. 12.37 to a stake on the east side of the Washington and Alexandria Turnpike road "F;" thence S. 6¼ degrees W. 23.50 along said road to the beginning, containing 96 acres, 3 roods and 21 perches, more or less, together with all the buildings, machinery and all fixtures and appurtenances connected with or in anywise appertaining to the aforesaid buildings. The property excepted from the above as referred to as having been conveyed to the Washington-Southern Railway Company is described as follows: Beginning at a point in the line dividing land of Jackson-Phillips Brick Company and New Washington Brick Company, where the same is intersected by the centre line of the new alignment of the Washington-Southern Railway at "Station 1402—23.3 of said new centre line; thence along said dividing line N. 85 degrees 44 minutes 30 seconds W. 75.2 feet to a point; thence by a line parallel with and 75 feet distant from the said new centre line in a northeasterly direction 1540.1 feet to a point in the line dividing land of Jackson-Phillips Brick Company and J. F. and M. E. Cullinane; thence along said dividing line N. 89 degrees 05 minutes E. 43.7 feet to a point; thence N. 80 degrees 50 minutes E. 119.3 feet, crossing the said new centre line at station 1417.75 to a point; thence by a line parallel with and 75 feet distant from the said new centre line in a southwestwardly direction 1575.6 feet to a point in the line dividing land of Jackson-Phillips Brick Company and New Washington Brick Company; thence along said dividing line N. 85 degrees 44 minutes 30 seconds W. 75.2 feet to the place of beginning, containing 5,362 acres, according to a plat and survey made by H. W. Stamper, jr, assistant engineer.

The above property to be sold is now known as the Jackson-Phillips Brick Company yards and includes all machinery and appurtenances now used in the manufacture of brick, and also a number of employees' houses.

Terms of Sale: 20 per cent of the purchase money in cash and the balance 20 per cent. every six months to be secured by deed of trust on the property, bearing interest at 6 per cent. from day of sale. A deposit of $1,000 required at time of sale.
